Tran Dinh Thuong Vu has successfully completed an intensive one week (25 hour) course in rater training for aviation personnel. Vu has shown an understanding of the key issues in testing language proficiency in aviation.

The course focused on the following areas:

- Test requirements according to ICAO document 318
- Rating 'Plain English for Aviation' according to the ICAO Language Proficiency Requirements
- Analysis of the ICAO Rating Scale
- The Test of English for Aviation © (TEA©) as a model for language testing
- Applying the ICAO rating scale to speech samples
- Candidate testing and rating
- Issues in language testing
- Interlocution – exam delivery

During the course participants were assessed on their ability to apply the ICAO language proficiency descriptors to a range of speech samples. The practical elements of the course included rating speech samples and the delivery of a language proficiency test using the Test of English for Aviation© as a model.

Based on his performance in this course it is our opinion that Vu is competent both as an interlocutor and to assess speech samples according to the ICAO rating scale for benchmarking, diagnostic and licensing purposes, where those speech samples have been elicited by a trained interlocutor in a valid testing system which meets ICAO requirements.

This certificate is valid for a period of two years. In order to maintain standards Vu will need to re-certify every two years.
